

Sponsorship in Marketing

Chapter 11: Relationships – Beginning, Managing, and Ending

THE NATURE OF SPONSORSHIP RELATIONSHIPS

Sponsorship relationships:

- can have vertical and horizontal structures
- are typically symbiotic, where the alliance of resources or programs between two or more independent organizations is designed to increase the market potential of each
- thrive in close association and with collaboration

BEGINNING NEW SPONSORSHIP RELATIONSHIPS

- The health of sponsorship relationships depends on aspects that are commonplace in other types of relationships, such as trust, mutual understanding, a long-term commitment, communication, and cooperation.
- Affective commitment or liking is a prerequisite for value-based commitment.

MANAGING EXISTING RELATIONSHIPS

Reasons for terminations

- Strategic versus tactical intent.
- Evolving relationships and a failure to adapt.
- Conflicting perceptions of contribution and the need for proof.
- Commitment asymmetry.
- Capability gap.

MANAGING EXISTING RELATIONSHIPS

Advice

- Learn about the goals and objectives of each party and respect them going forward.
- Define terms, expectations, and measures for a successful relationship early.
- Imagine the roles that people and data will play over time, and in times of dispute if they arise.
- View the relationship as long-term, no matter the length of the contract – once a partner, always a part of the shared history.

THE CHALLENGE OF NEGATIVE EVENTS

Fears

- Wasting budget on ineffective sponsorships
- Negative publicity or brand damage
- Competitor outshining brand
- Sponsorship activation not aligning with brand values
- Inadequate activation execution
- Not reaching target audience effectively
- Ineffective activation
- Rights holder failing to deliver promised benefits
- Legal or compliance issues
- Reputational risks

ENDING RELATIONSHIPS

Four logical buckets and ten disruptors

- Sponsor-related factors
- Sponsee-related factors
- Inter-relational factors
- External factors
- insufficient value creation
- objectives not having been achieved
- sports results not as hoped
- signal to society not as preferred
- lack of exclusivity
- negativity in associations
- personal relationships
- changed marketing strategy
- financial situation
- legislation or regulation

*Response to Sponsor
Exit Based on Reason and Horizon*

		Horizon for Exit
		Short	Long
Reasons for Sponsor Brand to Exit Partnership	Brand-centric Reasons to Exit	Probable Negative Attitudes <ul style="list-style-type: none">- moderated by immediate replacement sponsor	Possible Negative Attitudes
	Other-centric Reasons to Exit	Possible Positive Attitudes <ul style="list-style-type: none">- enhanced by immediate replacement sponsor- enhanced by authenticity of reason for exit	Probable Positive Attitudes <ul style="list-style-type: none">- enhanced by authenticity of reason for exit

SPONSORSHIP MANAGEMENT FROM THE PROPERTY PERSPECTIVE

Factors driving relationships

- Brand management (i.e., brand value, knowledge and experience of partner brands, brand position, brand identity, brand equity, and brand image),
- Partner relationships (i.e., satisfaction, mutual trust, commitment, common interest, product reliability, and innovative strategies),
- Marketing factors (i.e., marketing mix, market position, competitive advantage, and entry into new domestic markets), and
- Supporting factors (i.e., copyright, contracts and social media law).

Relationships – Beginning, Managing and Ending Questions

- 1. What signs might indicate that a sponsorship is fading?*
- 2. Of all the partnership disruptors discussed, which might be the most common across all types of sponsorships?*
- 3. In addition to those noted, what additional aspects might influence the response of audiences to the exit of a sponsor from a partnership?*
- 4. What aspects of sponsorship management differ for sponsors as compared to properties?*